Birth Report

Dear Agim Borova,

Thank you for ordering your Birth Horoscope MiniReport, which is sure to help you to understand the harmony between yourself and the universe and enable you to initiate the changes you want in life.

In designing this short reading, I have focused on what is especially unique to you. But - even more important - I have identified the most crucial influence on your immediate future and this will enable you to optimize good fortune in your life. Read on and prepare yourself for a great journey...

The strongest influence in your birth horoscope is "Venus Opposition Pluto". This is both a great talent and a great challenge. Know yourself, and you will be able to optimize the talent and overcome the challenges.

How this influence affects your personal life:

Your intimate relationships are characterised by their intensity. You are simply not interested in a superficial or casual relationship. You have a tendency to invest a lot of energy into winning love and attention and this is actually a throwback to childhood experiences which equated love with survival. You will often feel that it is fate that has brought you and your partner together, and that nothing will break the bond that has been established. Unfortunately, an unconscious fear of losing love can result in many exhausting emotional scenes. Relationships can lurch from crisis to crisis. When these negative influences have been transformed you will discover a real talent for giving loving support to others.

How this influence affects your professional life:

You have the ability to awaken deep sympathy in the hearts of other people, and you are probably willing to go to great lengths to be appreciated. Your attention to others can evoke a very positive atmosphere and genuine good feelings, if you learn to avoid a few simple weaknesses. You tend to go too far in pleasing others and trying to create a good impression. In this way you can monopolise some people and alienate those who are not impressed by your apparent charm. Businesswise you have a special talent for getting the most out of resources. You can see the value in items other people might throw away, and can turn waste into something valuable. Financially you must avoid the trap of getting into debt by buying prestige items. Do not throw good money after bad. Above all avoid becoming economically dependent on others - you could end up being manipulated.

As you mature, you will get better and better at making the most of your talents and changing unwanted behaviour. Opportunities arise because the universe does not stand still. In astrology current trends in your life are identified by following the movement of the planets and how they relate to your birth horoscope - called planetary transits. Below I have identified the single most powerful influence in your life right now. When you understand this influence, you'll know exactly how to make the most of the opportunities presented to you.

The most powerful influence in your life right now is "Pluto Square Mercury". Transits tend to last for about a year, and there are three intense peaks of power during that period. If you don't get it right first time, understanding the following trend will certainly help you get it right the last time!

How this influence affects your personal life:

During this period you will be under considerable psychological pressure. One of the main problems is that you find yourself obsessively dwelling on issues, whilst no amount of effort can eliminate the worries you feel. On a deeper level what is happening is that there is a welling up of powerful new mental powers which, if not channelled constructively, become the destructive source of anxieties. By channelling this mental energy into new fields of learning, particularly as regards occult and psychological issues, you will discover amazing new talents which can be the source of later success. You must eliminate old ideas and convictions now - their time is past. Teachers, friends or siblings who have had a profound mental influence on you have now outlived their usefulness. In your personal relationships there is the danger of getting involved in endless and fruitless discussions. If you find yourself talking exhaustively into the early hours in an effort to resolve difficult relationship issues, stop. These discussions - or interrogations - will only lead to the exhaustion of your partner and ultimately to long frustrating silences. There are other more creative ways to channel your mental energies.

How this influence affects your professional life:

This is a time of mental pressure, when the mind incessantly dwells on issues without being able to solve them. This mental energy should be used to investigate new subjects and understand the core of things, rather than on needless worries and anxieties. Avoid getting obsessed about issues at this time. Secrets come up now - both your own and other people's - so it is important to be honest. There can be a feeling of a conspiracy, or maybe vicious gossip in the working environment. It is better to be aloof than involved. Lies surface, and so does the truth. However it is now that investigations brings results, even though the truth can be unpleasant. Vigorous action needs to be taking to root out dishonesty or corruption. This is an excellent period for working with computers and gaining psychological insight. Courses connected with the science of the mind are favoured. Old systems of accounting, bookkeeping, filing, etc. should be replaced by new. This is an extremely hard-working period, and you may even find yourself working into the night-time hours. Take it easy, as your health can suffer during this period. Acute problems can be experienced with existing transport - this is the time to scrap old vehicles - and new transport possibilities may arise.

Now you know something about what makes you special, and something about what makes this period of your life special. However, this MiniReport has not taken into account two very important factors, which make a chart reading even more accurate. When you also supply your birth time and birthplace, the planets can be placed in context in your horoscope using the 12 houses. With this information you can obtain a really accurate description of your challenges and potentials regarding work, love, sexuality, attachment and a lot more. I'd love you to take advantage of this opportunity to get a full horoscope report of about 20+ pages delivered to your email.
